The quick-release made of durable aluminum replaces the original base of Nikkor 70-200 f2.8 VR or VRII. It allows to directly mount your lens on Arca-Swiss clamps without the need to screw the foot onto additional quick-release plates. Using special bolts, the quick-release may be additionally protected against unwanted fall out from Arca-Swiss clamp. It also features two female 1/4" mounting threads for the attachment of quick-releases with other types of mounts.
